

Sam King Bio

Emerging from a small town in Yemassee, SC is Producer, Songwriter, DJ, and Visionary Brandon "Sam King" Anderson. Born to a Filipino mother, and an African-American father, Sam King is no stranger to a diverse upbringing, which has transcended into his works, both musically and visually.

There is no shortage of talent that Sam King has had the pleasure of working with and producing for, which includes the likes of Maggie Rose, Grammy Award winner T-Pain, Ty Dolla Sign, Trey Songz, Courtney James, and 6x Grammy nominated, The Mad Violinist. He prides himself on being able to connect and work with the most talented the world can offer, and has so much more room to grow.

Including his current works on the Nashville music scene of Country Fusion. Fusion is defined as the process or result of joining two or more things together to form a single entity, and is also the word used to describe much of what Sam King stands for.

Having traveled the world as T-Pain's tour DJ, has also given his sound a worldwide approach, as he has fused some of those experiences and cultures into his own sound.

The birth of, aColorWar, the Electronic Dance duo that Sam King is 1/2 of, gives him a chance to showcase his performance self and has afforded him the opportunity to tour with acts such as, Chance the Rapper, Matoma, Jeremih, Aluna George, Third Eye Blind, Dev, Big Sean, and Lil B.

Aside from music, Sam King has a creative multimedia agency, poweredByMDD, where he is creative director assisting Fortune 500 companies and notable artists.
